LAHORE CITY

The Knowledge and Cultural Metropolis

With a rich history that dates back to thousands of years, Lahore is Pakistan's second largest city with a population of approximately 10 million people, and the capital of the Punjab province. Lahore served as the capital of the Ghaznavids and the Ghuris in the 12th and 13th centuries. However, it was during the Mughal Rule (1524-1752) that Lahore reached the peak of its glory. The Mughals gave Lahore some of the finest architectural monuments that draw thousands of visitors to this day. Lahore was also the seat of power during the Sikh and British rule. Lahore is the city of poets, scholars, artists, journalists, sportsmen and the center of the film industry. It is also known as the city of colleges with a number of famous libraries, universities and schools. As the commercial and technological hub of the country, Lahore is the second biggest industrial base of the country. Lahore is poised to become the nodal point for the Global Knowledge Economy through the Lahore Knowledge Park – a standalone entity conforming to international standards that will create a space for collaboration between academia, government and industry.

THE JOURNEY FROM ILM TO UMT

A Saga of Progress

UMT is a project of Institute of Leadership and Management (ILM) Trust. ILM was established in 1990 by leading educationists, professionals, and industrialists with an aim to enhance the organizational and individual effectiveness. Guided by the noble mission of helping others in actualizing their limitless human potential to its finest shape, ILM sought to respond to the challenges of information-based economy, globalization, and ever increasing complexity.

UMT – now an independent, not-for-profit, private institution of higher learning – received her degree-granting charter first as the Institute of Management and Technology (IMT) in 2002 through an Act of the Assembly of the Punjab. Later, on 16 June 2004, IMT became University of Management and Technology through the passing of a similar Act by the Punjab Assembly. UMT is recognized by the Higher Education Commission (HEC) of Pakistan as a 'W4' category (highest rank) university.
